The History of the War.

The elder Walpole, who held the reigns of power so long in England under the earlier Georges, once remarked " As for history, I know that to be a lie," and we fear that he was right, or nearly so.

Now who shall pretend to decide on the truth of the very variant accounts we receive from the seat of war in Europe, either as to the actual occurrences or the rights or wrongs of the case so far as the present parties to the war are concerned. When hereafter the German historian, with much amplitude and patience compiles his narrative and ponders over the morals and philosophy of the struggle, we will be sure to find his production somewhat different from the brilliant story of the Frenchman who tells only of the magnanimity of the Emperor, and exults over the glory of the Grande Nation.

Most of our newspapers take their tone from the orfore, be led to regard Louis Napoleon and his armies, as intendence not only invincible, but immaculate; all of which would striking kind of bravery generally known as "dash." They attack better than they defend—they advance, but cannot stand still-they do not hold on with the dogged perseverance of English or Russians. If we were to believe English accounts of the beginning of this century, the French were scoundrels and no account. If we take a true Frenchman's account of the wars of his country, we will search in vain for anything | natural guardian the laws of England would not reject. | people but victory, although England has stripped her of every colony she ever formed and every possession she ever had

The Fayetteville Carolinian.

The Carolinian comes down with another piece upon the JOURNAL. Let us say a word about the New Hanover meeting. The Carolinian is right about one thing. We ourselves mentioned to the senior Editor of that paper, sometime after the meeting here, as showing our desire for impartiality, and our opposition to anything like packing, that we had wished Dr. Bellamy to occupy the Chair, as he had been totally removed from all the agitation of this question, and his known character would give assurance to all. This statement of our own, personally made to the senior Editor of the Carolinian, may be made a bug-a-boo of if the repressionists think any capital can be made out of it. They will hardly find their account in it.

The action and sentiments of a New Hanover County meeting are before the world as certified to by a Democratic Chairman and Secretary. The actors in that meeting are responsible to their fellow-citizens of New Hanover, not to be arrainged upon "reliable and creditable information" before the people of another county We rather think that the less interference is made with our county matters the better it will be liked; and the less "reliable information" of the kind the Carolinian has been receiving, it continues to receive, the more real knowledge it will have.

We have heard a good many things about meetings held elsewhere than here, but this retailing of "reliable information" is not in our line. Officious intermeddling founded upon ex parte information, can only have the effect of enabling the Carolinian to embroil the affairs of this county as the course it has pursued has unfortunately done those of the District. It is a queer kind of friendship to say the least of it.

The Editors of the Carolinian will find that as much of the success and usefulness of an Editor depends upon what he does not put in as upon what he does. They will find that attempts to call in question the acts of good Democrats, in their own county meeting, in view of the world, by persons at a distance, is not always relished; and they will find that swift witnesses are not always the most reliable informants, even if they be all sorts of good men and friends to the JOURNAL. They will find farther what we have found, that acts speak louder than words, and that we gage friendship by the acts, and not by the words. We charge nobody with improper motives or intentional wrong, but injustice certainly has been done us.

The Two-Headed Cirl.

We have seen a good many very queer references in the papers to a remarkable natural curiosity in the shape of two colored twins joined together in a much more remarkable manner than the Siamese twins. The phenomenon or phenomena alluded to was, or were, born in Columbus county, N. C., and were known as the Columbus twins. Their mother belonged, we believe, to Mr. Jabez McKay. When they were quite young-in their baby-hood, we might say-certainly not over a year old, we saw them at the Carolina Hotel in this place. Their mother, a large, likely-looking, fat, black woman, was with them. We looked at them then. They were two, joined near the base of the spine-their whole physique else being duplicate. They were pretty, sprightly colored children, rather light, but not apparently of mixed blood. The Meeting Last Night. For obvious reasons we do not wish to make any extended reference to the Hotel meeting last night at the Court House. Although the meeting appeared to be a very full one, it was found when a canvass was made that a majority of stock was not represented, and that therefore no business could be done. In fact we suppose no binding action can be said to have been taken-officially quest his acceptance of this tribute of respect and esteem. there was no meeting-at least so it seems.

The original directors, beyond all doubt and without an exception, wished to build the hotel, and thus carry out the object for which they were chosen. This we think we have a right to say.

With the subscription made, they, as a board, did not feel authorized to go into the building of a hotel on the scale expected and demanded, as they thought, by the interests of the town. They did not and do not arrogate to themselves any intallibility of judgment. They have been and are anxious to come before the subscribers generally and say this much-show us how we can get enough stock to justify us-choose any board that can get up more steek, or that will feel justified in proceeding with the amount already subscribed; and we, as stockholders anxious to see a hotel built, will co-operate to the extent of our abilities. We wish to occupy no dog-in-the-manger position.

With this view, the Board wished to resign last night in full stockholders' meeting and have others chosen .--They stand ready since that failed to accede to the wishes of the stockholders in that respect, in any way those qualities of head and heart which ever marked your

One regiment of chasseurs, in particular, is reported to have been extraordinarily steady

The Times Turin correspondent, writing on the 24th says a general impressions prevailed that there would soon be an action on a much larger scale than the affair of Montebello-probably in the vicinity of Mortara.

MANIFESTO OF FATHER LACORDAIRE. Father Lacordaire, a Catholic priest, has addressed a letter to the Catholics of France on the war. He is a man of great ability, and does not hesitate to declare to the world that the main cause of all the evils which war is destined to inflict on mankind, is the policy of Austria towards the Papal States. "If the Papal government," he says, "has become unpopular and odious to its own subjects, and a mark for blame in foreign nations, it is owing to the pressure exercised on the head of the church by Austria, and to the degrading servitude in which he has been kept, particularly since 1845. Father Lacordaire expresses no admiration for the military revolution which confiscated the institutions former ly enjoyed by France, nor does he excuse the acts which led to and established the Imperial system, but he distinctly declares his approval of the policy of the Emperor in so far as it is destructive of Austrian domination in Italy-a domination which he considers as fatal to the welfare of the Pontifical States, and the best in Ten thousand deaths, But not a single tear.

Very important to gardeners and housekeepers. There s not a garden but can be preserved from the ravages of insects, or a house that cannot be cleansed of all vermin pests, by Lyon's Magnetic Powder. One dollar invested will save fifty in profit and pleasure. It is the powdered leaf of a plant, discovered by E. Lyon, a French Botanist, in the interior of Asia. It kills all garden worms, roaches, bed-bugs, ants, ticks, fleas, moths, &c. It is entirely free from poison, and harmless to mankind and domestic animals. The governments and societies of Europe have libe The following is an official bulletin issued by the Sar- rally rewarded Mr. Lyon. It can be ordered through any

June 2, 1859 .- 40-3w. MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT.

Its wonderful effects and consequent popularity-perhaps no article in the history of the Materia Medica, ever acquired the same patronage, was subject to the same number of severe and different tests, and met with so few failures as the Mustang Liniment. It has justly been styled a Panecea for Molasses; Candles; Pork; Lard, &c., &c. For sale by all external Wounds, Cuts, Swellings, Sprains, Bruises, or June 7th Eruptions on Man or Beast. It is so far a medicine of surprising virtue, that Physicians are compelled to prescribe it; and from some remarkable cures of Chronic and Distorted Rheumatic cases it has naturally attracted much attention from the first scientific minds of the age. No family can afford to be without a bottle of the Mustang Liniment in the house. Beware imitations. The genuine is sold by respectable dealers in all parts of
